

An array of immersive activities awaits you, where innovation merges seamlessly with the charm of the Mediterranean, fostering creativity and inspiration.

Location

With an accentuated Mediterranean character, Valencia has been voted by Forbes as the best city in the world to live in. This comes as no surprise, given its diverse array of attractions, ranging from the largest urban park in Spain to 19 kilometers of beaches and the futuristic complex of the City of Arts.

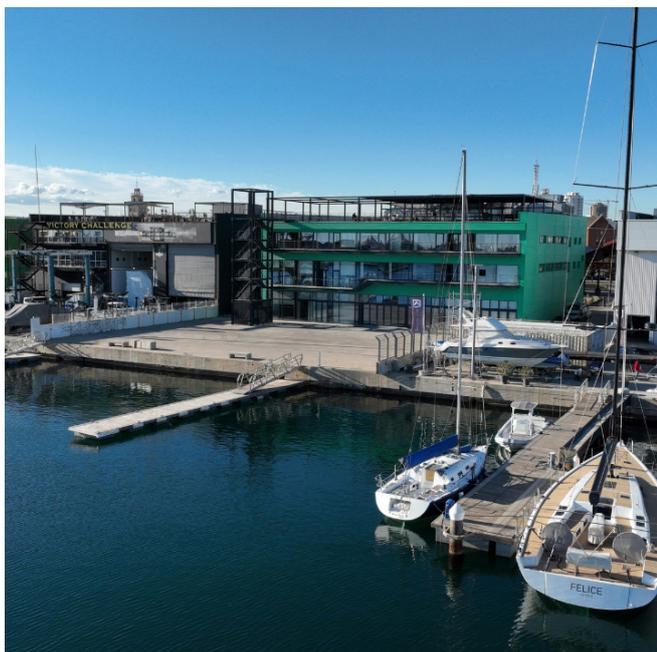

Situated within Valencia's Marina, our conference venue, BIOHUB VLC, occupies a prime position at the epicenter of the city's innovation district. Here, you'll have the opportunity to learn from our exceptional lineup of speakers while enjoying privileged views of the Mediterranean Sea.
